

Scott A. Urban

Economist | Macroeconomics, international finance, policy analysis and training/workshopping

Oxford, England
scott.urban@gmail.com
scott.urban@hertford.ox.ac.uk

Professional Experience – Macroeconomics & International Finance

Oxford FX
Director
Oxford
2012-present

Build macroeconomic models and deliver seminars/workshops on international macroeconomics, financial crises, and policy frameworks..

Hertford College, Oxford
College Lecturer in Economics for Visiting Students
Oxford
2012-present

Teach Money & Banking, China in the Global Economy, Financial Crisis, and other syllabi to study-abroad students at Hertford College.

Oxford Analytica
International Economist; Senior Advisor
Oxford
2001-2005
and 2010-2022

Managed international economics content on Daily Brief. Later, served as Senior Advisor on international finance.

US Treasury Department
Research Assistant
Washington
2000-2001

Quantitative and country research in the East Asia office.

Business Weekly (China Daily)
Chief Sub Editor
Beijing
1994-1997

Story selection and sub-editing on largest business newspaper in China.

Education

University of Oxford
D.Phil. (Ph.D.)
Supervised in Economics Department
Oxford
2012

Thesis: Gold in the Interwar Monetary System
Examiners: Barry Eichengreen (Berkeley) and Knick Harley (Oxford).

Columbia University
M.A., Program in Economic Policy Management (PEPM)
New York
1999

University of Colorado
B.A., Political Science
Boulder
1991

Publications

“Policy options for the euro area: Heterodoxy ahead”. Journal of Common Market Studies (May 2014).

Civic engagement / Volunteering

- Co-founded the award-winning People, Place and Participation Ltd (“Flo’s – The Place in the Park”) in 2017.
- Founded the campaign organisation, “Oxfordshire Liveable Streets”, in 2018.